

Are You Taking Your Medicines Correctly?

A MedsIndex Score can answer this.

Are you one of the 50 to 75% of patients who do not take their medicines properly and are in danger of not getting better or having a relapse.

Not taking medicines when prescribed or not taking them correctly, otherwise known as non-compliance, can be detrimental to your ongoing health.

MedsIndex is a tool now available in this pharmacy that can track how you are performing with medicines compliance. MedsIndex calculates how much medicine your doctor intended you to take compared to how much has been dispensed and scores your compliance.

Once your MedsIndex Score has been established your pharmacist can advise you on how you can improve your results if required.
